Continuance of export-oriented schemes

*154. SHRI V. NARAYANASAMY: Will the Minister of COMMERCE and INDUSTRY be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that Government have decided to continue the export-oriented schemes till 2008-09; and

(b) whether it is also a fact that his Ministry will take steps to ensure that the counterveiling duty is not attracted and the schemes are not misused?

THE MINISTER OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY (SHRI KAMAL NATH): (a) The Export Promotion Schemes being implemented at present essentially aim at providing duty free access to international quality raw materials, intermediates, components, consumables and capital goods required for export production. The Policy and procedural framework for the Export Oriented Schemes is reviewed from time to time and changes made in order to permit better performance of units operating under the Schemes.

(b) The Export Promotion Schemes have various in-built safeguards to prevent their misuse. Some of these are as follows:

(i) Licences issued under Advance Licensing Scheme are subject to actual user condition and are non- transferable.

(ii) Capital goods imported under Export Promotion Capital Goods Scheme are subject to actual user condition till fulfillment of export obligation.

(iii) A nexus is specified for duty free import under Duty Free Replenishment Certificate Scheme.

(iv) Value caps are specified to prevent unintended benefits to importers and exporter in respect of Duty Entitlement Passbook Scheme.
